

2010 Poster Contest Results

This year's theme for the poster contest was Conservation Habits equal Healthy Habitats. The kids did a great job of designing their posters and expressing how they would create a Healthy Habitat. Even though there was so many good posters we still had to narrow it down to the top three class winners and the top three overall winners. Pictured are the top 3 class winners from all the classes that participated. We will let you know in the next issue who the overall winners are. The Livingston County Soil and Water Conservation would like to congratulate all the students who participated on a job well done!!

Congratulations!!
